beads baubles and jewels

1306-1 Inspired by Sentiments & Writing

Books can inspire beading projects in a variety of surprising ways, whether you're highlighting a favorite quote or taking design inspiration cues from the pages of your favorite novel.

Katie's bookmark is inspired by Stargirl by Jerry Spinelli

Instructions

1. Pass a head pin through a 8mm helix and beaded rondelle and make a wrapped loop to attach it to a jump ring.
2. Connect the upper loop on a knot charm to the same jump ring. Use another jump ring to connect a starfish to the lower loop on the knot charm.
3. Pass a head pin through a Joy bead and an aqua seed bead and make a wrapped loop to connect it to the jump ring next to the other beaded dangles.
4. Thread a seed bead onto the center of the beading wire, then hold the wire ends together and pass them through: Rococo round, 8mm Indian sapphire, wide end of spiral bead cone.
5. Pour seed beads onto a beading mat and use the beading wire end to pick them up. Cover wires to within 1" of ends.
6. Pass both wires through a crimp bead, jump ring with beaded dangles, and back through the crimp bead. Crimp it, then attach crimp cover.
